First Tulsa Exhibit to Be Held at McNulty Park October 18-22

Tulsa's initial horse show, to be held at McNulty park, October 18-22, is to be enlivened by the presence of a platoon from the First U. S. field artillery located at Fort Hill, which will put on a exhibition drill and gunnery runs, according to arrangements just made by a representative of the show association with Brigadier General Hines, commanding officer at Fort Hill. The platoon will be armed with the American 75 mm. gun and will give an exhibition of light field artillery going in and out of action, along with other tactics. The detail will be encamped at the park.

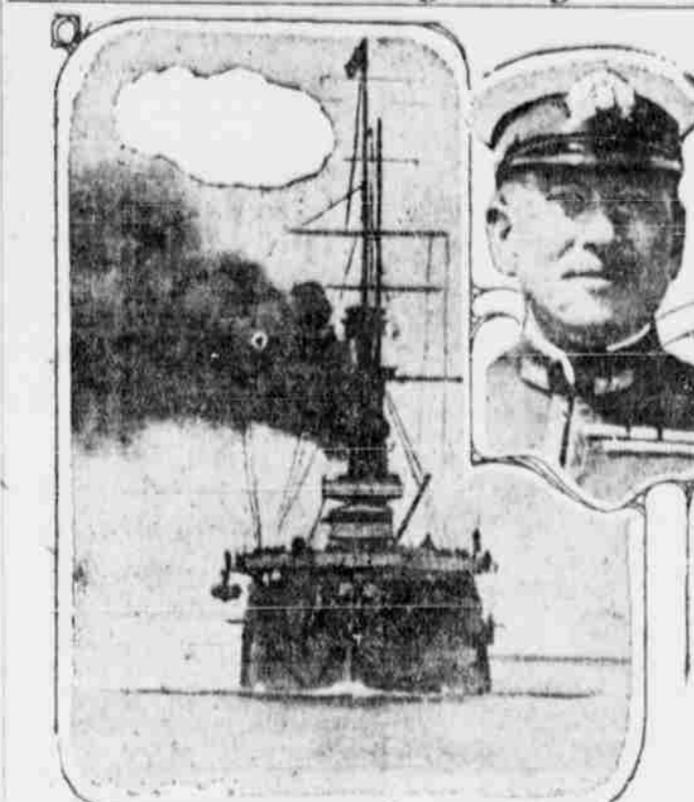

Outside of the platoon, individual entries in the horse show by Fort Hill officers are expected, to the extent of ten entries for the walk, trot, gaiter class and the same number for the jumping class. Among the officers who will be here to ride will be Major L. L. Lewis, who served on the Army polo team at the Pan-American International exposition in Panama in 1914 and Major Richard Burleson, P. A., while Lieutenant Conant, F. A., will exhibit his army charger in the walk, trot, gaiter class and Major Kennedy, F. Other preparations for the show in progress are the printing of souvenir programs and assembling of the cups offered, together with the collections of winning ribbons of several local stable shows now displayed in the various horse interests and in local business establishments.

In connection with the receiving of the ribbons won by the W. L. Lewis string of horses, it was announced that this string will make its first appearance in Tulsa at the show and will be kept here in the future by Lewis, who has rented the

ASKS QUASHING OF INDICTMENTS

Accusations Made Against Grand Jury by Defendants in Sapulpa

ASSETS OF THE WORLD
SAPULPA, Okla., Sept. 30.—The report of the present grand jury and accusations of parties indicted, including prominent citizens of Muskogee, including the city's mayor for malfeasance in office, precipitated an appeal to superior court here yesterday and today.

Statement charging that the Creek county grand jury is unlawful and illegal that certain jurors were not eligible to be empannelled and that persons outside of the jury influenced them to indict W. A. Muldrow, Dr. Wm. J. Webster, and M. C. Bryan, policemen, they were remanded in custody until this afternoon.

Judge Wilson ordered the hearing of evidence to support the charges against the grand jury to be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The trial was made in connection to have the indictment against the Muskogee men quashed.

The present grand jury ends its work tonight at 6 o'clock. Judge Wilson said, and another jury will be empannelled out of seventy-five men who will be called. The jury reported to the court this afternoon.

and returned two true bills of indictment and told Judge Wilson that they were to have had important orders and findings but had not finished, and would present their findings tomorrow.

At the next criminal docket term of superior court, which opens October 1, in the case of W. A. Muldrow, Dr. Wm. J. Webster, and M. C. Bryan, policemen, they were remanded in custody until this afternoon.

It was also the last trial of Muldrow, who Dr. Childs found waiting at his office yesterday morning. The trial was played in a good home, where he will remain temporarily in a few days.

A new baby boy slept throughout yesterday while 18 people presented their claims for adoption to Dr. H. C. Childs, the physician who Thursday ushered him into the world and who announced this opportunity for adoption in the columns of the Friday World. Two applicants were within hailing distance of the judge. Homeless, she was the least likely of the two, and was also the least intact physically, an older woman from West Texas who Dr. Childs found waiting at his office yesterday morning. The baby was played in a good home, where he will remain temporarily in a few days.
